Interpretation of the notes of Helena Roerich.

Hystory of the universe.

*The original language is in italics.
For more details, see "Manvantara".*

Abstract.

A brief history of our universe is presented, in accordance with extracts from the records of Helena Roerich on the keyword "manvantar". Helena Roerich's notes concerning the description of the evolution of the universe are not consistent and resemble the description of the work of a sculptor who touches completely different parts of the figure with a chisel at various stages of working out his creation. Given the limited completeness of the records and the complexity of the evolutionary process, the proposed interpretation does not claim to be completely reliable, but is at least the variant of the development of events that corresponds to the records.

A Brief History of Our Universe.

The Sun Unmanifested, which is in the center of the Milky Way, is one of His chakras on the planes of non-manifestation (above the Manas plane). The history of our universe begins with the fact that the Unmanifested Sun initiates the birth of the Basic Sun. The Basic Sun is a dense copy (reflection) of the Unmanifested Sun on the Manasic and Subtle planes. The beginning and details of this process are unknown, but it is known that this event occurred in the previous universe and revealed the Primary Atom of our universe in the core of the Basic Sun.

The term "universe" is understood as a populated region of space. Moreover, this region is inhabited by spirits born on the Manifestation planes by the Primary Atom. The rank of the Atom corresponds to the size of the region of space inhabited by Him. Our universe is limited by the constellations of the Zodiac. The most distant star in our universe is the Polaris. The center of our universe is the Solar System and our Sun. Our Sun is a dense copy (reflection) of the Basic Sun on the Physical plane. The Primary Sun is currently positioned in the direction of the constellation Hercules.

The Primary Atom of the universe is a combination of two opposite and complementary Poles (Beginnings or Vibrations). This is the positive, repulsive Beginning of the Father and the negative, attracting Beginning of the Mother. The Father's Beginning corresponds to electricity, forward movement and the Sun. The Mother Beginning corresponds to magnetism, rotational movement and the Moon of the Sun. Non-manifestation of the Primary Atom in the state of pralaya corresponds to its neutrality, or non-interaction with the environment.

The prenatal stage of the universe consists in the manifestation of the Primary Atom of the universe in the core of the Basic Sun i.e. in His activation, polarization and rotation by the rays of the Unmanifested Sun. As a result of vibrational sympathy, atoms of the previous universe of a lower rank, consonant with Him in vibration, are built into the outer, Maternal shell of the Atom on the Unmanifested plane, from which the future universe will be formed and populated. In other words, the manifested universe is the body of the Primary Atom. The primary body of the Atom was only the Basic Sun.

Self-consciousness of the Primary Atom is something more than the combined consciousness of His Father and Mother Beginnings. From the point of view of the self-conscious Atom, the self-consciousness of these Beginnings correspond to His subconscious processes and the energies of the Pingala and Ida channels in a person. The consciousness of the Atom sleeping in pralaya on the Unmanifested plane is, basically, the consciousness of a more active Father's Beginning. The emergence of the self-consciousness of the Atom corresponds to its awakening and manifestation. Manifestation corresponds to the loss of neutrality through the birth in the Atom of the Third Pole (Son or Daughter). The Third Beginning corresponds to the subconscious energy of the Sushumna channel in man. As a result of the active copulation of the harmonious and resonant vibrations of the Father and the Mother, the Atom explodes in the Cosmic orgasm and gives birth to the Son in the case of the nascent male universe or the Daughter in the case of the nascent female universe. The dual, neutral Cosmic Primary Atom of our universe after its 1st explosion turned into a polar (male) trinity Cosmic Atma corresponding to the man's atma.

The focus of self-consciousness of our male Cosmic Individuality (the manifested universe) is Atman (Unknown Father), which gathers together the energies of the Trinity of the Cosmic Atma. The question of whether the Atman of the Cosmic Atma is the same atman as the atman of any human atma most likely does not have an unambiguous answer. The question of the location and fate of the polar opposite (vibrational complement) of our Cosmic Individuality is also open. Similar to the Maternal Beginning in the Primary Atom, this female Cosmic Atma, together with our male Cosmic Atma, on the highest Unmanifested planes, constitutes a Cosmic Atom of a more grander scale than the Primary Atom of our universe.

Similarly to the cosmic ones, human male and female atmas are halves of human atoms on the Unmanifested plane and grains of the spirit for their denser manasic shells – male and female monads. Only in the case of achieving spiritual copulation with your soul mate before the onset of the pralaya period, further evolution with it is guaranteed in the next manvantara. Otherwise, the Halves meet only for the period of the manvantara, after which they are reassembled before the new manvantara into more successful combinations (atoms). During manvantara, the human atom on the Atmic, Unmanifested plane is united atom. But on the Manasic plane, the monads that make up the human atom are the Manasic halves of the atom, sometimes separated from each other by a great distance.

Awareness of the need to find one's polar opposite in life in order to achieve the best conditions for mutual development and bring the greatest benefit to oneself, one's soul mate and the World is an important evolutionary stage for developed men and women.

Prior to its 1st explosion, the Primary Atom has the sphere of Uranus as the inner, Father sphere of the Basic Sun, and the sphere of the Moon of Uranus as the outer, Mother sphere. The Mother Sphere is connected magnetically with the Moon-comet, which is moving in the closest orbit to the Basic Sun on the Unmanifest Plane. The movement of the Moon-comet in the Mother sphere around the Father sphere of the Basic Sun corresponds to the movement of the Atmic grain of the Mother around the grain of the Father in the Atom. The connection of the grains of the cosmic Atom is similar to the proton-electron pair in the hydrogen atom, but the comparison with a particle consisting of a particle-antiparticle pair is even more correct. The birth of a Son in a neutral Atom is similar to the formation of a positive Proton, consisting of 2 male up-quarks and 1 female down-quark. Thus, the proton is analogous to the manifested Primary Atom of our universe.

As a result of the 1st explosion of the Atom, the dual atoms of the previous universe are revealed (born) into Manifestation, which receive an impulse from the Father (Uranus, the inner sphere of the Basic Sun) and are clothed with the finest matter of the Mother (Moon-comet, the outer sphere of the Basic Sun). This period constitutes the Manvantara of the Basic Sun. The first and most dense sphere of the Basic Sun, which is formed in this manvantara is the sphere of the Son (Saturn). The real name of the Basic Sun is not given out, but when it comes to that distant period, it is sometimes called under the name Saturn. Further, the spheres of the Father and the Mother form the spheres of Sirius and his Moon (Moon-mother). This is probably why the Basic Sun is often called Sirius, although Sirius itself, as an independent luminary, separates from the Basic Sun only after the 3rd explosion of the Atom. In the Manvantara of the Basic Sun, the Manasic grains of the Father, Mother and Son are formed in the core of the Sirius sphere. The Manvantara of the Basic Sun is the Manvantara of generation and is often included in the pre-Manvantara period, and the first Sun of the universe is sometimes called Uranus.

The Basic Sun Sirius was a triune conscious Being (Atman whose body was Atma), not human, but beautiful in appearance, which exploded soon after fixing its orbit around the Unmanifested Sun.

After the 1st explosion of the Atom, the Atmic Pole of the Mother remained inseparable from the Atmic Pole of the Father in the sphere of Uranus of the Basic Sun. But the Atmic and Manasic Pole of the Son was strongly connected with the then most condensed Manasic sphere of Saturn, where there was no female Atmic Pole that complemented Him. The Manasic grains of the Trinity constituted the single Manasic body of Atman only in the sphere of Sirius. The single Atmic body of the Trinity in the Unmanifested sphere of the Atman of the Basic Sun common to all Beginnings, probably, was not well formed due to the strong connection of the Atmic grain of the Son with the sphere of Saturn. The Manasic Beginnings of the Father and the Son in the Atom were strongly bound by the Mother. This type of bond is typical for the strongest crystals, in which neighboring positive atomic nuclei are connected by a common negative electron. However, the absence of the female Pole in the sphere of Saturn caused excessive indignation of the Son and internal tension in the Atom, as a result of which It exploded along with the Basic Sun.

The question of where the complementary female Half of the Son is located is open. Perhaps finding this Half is one of the goals of the Cosmos evolution and is connected with finding the triune Half of the triune Atman. The role of the complementary Half of the Son in the Atom is played by the Mother. The probable reason for the dramatic nature of the evolution of our universe was the excessive and selfish attraction of the Son to the Mother. The beginning of the deadly rivalry of the Son with the Father for the Mother, now subsiding, now flaring up with new force, was laid by the 1st explosion of the Basic Sun Sirius.

The 1st explosion of Sirius and the 2nd explosion of the Atom is often called the beginning of the universe and the beginning of the First Manvantara. The First manvantara is usually called the Sirian manvantara, although during this period three Suns occupied a central position in the solar system: Basic Sun Sirius, Saturn and Uranus.

As a result of the 1st explosion of the Basic Sun Sirius, many nuclei of the worlds were born, in particular, the nuclei of Venus, Jupiter and the Best Planet. The sphere of the Moon-mother after the explosion separated from the Basic Sun Sirius as an independent planet, but did not move away from Sirius, She occupied the closest orbit to Him. This event corresponded to some separation of the Mother's Pole from the Father's Pole in the Atom on the Manasic plane. After the 1st explosion of Sirius, the monolithic Manasic body of the Trinity partially disintegrated due to the separation of the Manasic grain of the Son from it, and the neutral human monads polarized into androgynous beings. As a result of the explosion, the Manasic grain of the Son flew out of the core of Sirius into the core of Saturn. At the same time, Saturn separated from the Basic Sun Sirius as an independent luminary. Only the Manasic ray of the Son remained in the core of the sphere of Sirius, by which He remained connected with the Mother. Together with the grain of the Son, a huge part of the fohatic energy of Sirius passed into Saturn.

After the 1st explosion of the Basic Sun Sirius, Uranus was the first to be in a central position, but was soon forced out by Saturn. The Moon-mother did not then move to Saturn, but remained in the orbit of Sirius. This period of the First Manvantara can be described as the collaboration of Saturn and Uranus in the Sirius space. Saturn failed to establish itself in its manvantara due to lack of the Moon and was driven out by Uranus as soon as the Moon-mother became the Moon of Uranus.

After some time, the attraction of the Son to the Mother caused the 3rd explosion of the Atom and the 2nd explosion of the Basic Sun Sirius. As a result of the explosion, the Mother separated from the Father on the Manasic plane, and the ray of the Son left the core of Sirius. At the same time, the grain of the Father flew out of the Sirius core into the core of Uranus. Uranus immediately exploded and gave birth to Neptune in the core of which the Manasic grain of the Lord Kut-Khumi was revealed, but for a mysterious reason without its polar opposite. In addition, as a result of the explosion of Uranus, the small Moon of Uranus was born, in the core of which the Manasic grain of the Lady Bhong-Po (Orioles) was revealed. The explosion took the Lady's male Half to a distance beyond Her reach. The human monads were divided as a result of the explosion. Many Manasic halves of atoms were blown apart by an explosion to different luminaries of the universe. The Husband and Wife after the explosion became connected only by an energy channel corresponding to the rib in the Husband's body on His right side.

The sphere of Sirius was separated by an explosion from the Basic Sun as an independent luminary. Fragments of the sphere of Sirius materialized Uranus and Saturn. Shortly thereafter, Saturn exploded and retreated to the periphery of the Uranus solar system. Sirius also moved to the periphery and began to break up into smaller luminaries and planets.

During this period of the First Manvantara, the beginning of the self-conscious evolution of men and women bodily connected with each other was laid. The evolution of the First Manvantara takes place on the Mental Plane. The Father and Mother create the cores of the worlds, incarnate as the elemental Spirits of Fire and Air, and begin the formation of a refined type of man on the Moon-mother. The fieriness of Uranus exceeds the airiness of His Moon, and the element of Air gradually burns out on Her. Uranus is forced to surround himself with new, often unfit Moons, but the Mother Moon remains the older Moon.

At this time, Saturn returns from the periphery, surrounded by many Moons, and the Basic Sun begins to retreat to higher spheres and beyond the Solar System. Uranus and Neptune strongly connected with the Basic Sun, depart with It. Following Uranus, its little Moon and the Best Planet, which will become the most developed planet in the Second Manvantara, depart to the higher spheres and to the periphery of the system. Moon-mother cooperates for a short time with Neptune and then retreats to Saturn. Saturn occupies a central position and is established in His manvantara at the end of the larger First Manvantara. The Father for this period loses his Tara.

Best Planet is attracted to Saturn. Son and Mother build the worlds of Mars, Mercury, Venus, the Best Planet, the little Moon and other planets. But on all the worlds formed by Them lies the stamp of Mother's indifference. In the rays of Saturn, the shells become denser and the human intellect develops. The Hierarchy of the Son is being formed. The Son and the Mother represent the Spirits from condensed Mental matter, slightly oscillating during atmospheric movements.

Soon Uranus and his brother Neptune, brilliant and renewed on the higher planes, return. Moon-mother returns to Uranus. Little Moon becomes a satellite of the Moon-mother. Due to the conjunction with the Moon-mother, the masculine power of Uranus increases even more and He displaces Saturn from the center. Both luminaries explode and Saturn retreats to the periphery of the Solar System of the renewed Uranus. After a while the system goes into pralaya.

The next, Second Manvantara is characterized by the highest development of life on the Best Planet and the predominance of the vibration of the Feminine Beginning in the evolution of the Cosmos. The Moon-mother with the little Moon move to the North Star as a result of the decision of the Mother to appear with the Father on the Best Planet, which becomes the Moon of Uranus. To replace the tired Uranus, the Father calls our Sun into the Solar System. Our Sun comes from the region of the Zodiac which was then occupied by Hercules and now by Scorpio. Our Sun comes along with Saturn and does not allow Him to take a central position in the Solar System. A system of three Suns is being established: Uranus, Saturn and the Sun. Uranus dominates. Saturn returns surrounded by many moons. In the fiery whirlwind of the Sun, from the fragment of the Moon-comet brought by Him from the constellation Hercules, our Moon materializes and becomes the Moon of the Sun. Our Earth is the extinct sun which is attracted in this period to the Three Sun System from the constellation of Orion. The Best Planet becomes the Moon of our Sun, and the Father assimilates His energies.

The best conditions for the development of mankind arise on a Best Planet. There, the Kingdom of the Three arises. The Mother is in a dominant position and like other women of the Best Planet has several husbands. The main husband is the Father. The Hierarchy of the Father is formed on the Best Planet and the Stronghold of Knowledge is founded. In the rays of our Sun and Saturn, as well as through the efforts of the Son, a strong condensation of the Subtle body of a person occurs almost to the state of physical density. The skeleton and muscular system appears. A gap appears between awareness in a densified body and awareness in a disembodied (Subtle) body. On the high planes of the Subtle World, the Father and Mother create the worlds, but in the densified state They lose awareness of their inner Essence. At the request of the Mother, the Father conceives in Her a new type of human organism, in which there is no ligament between husband and wife on the side of the husband's right rib. Soon on the Best Planet there is a complete mixing of half-hearted monads and a decline in morals.

The third manvantara is the manvantara of the battle between Saturn and Uranus for the Best Planet. After exiting pralaya, Saturn approaches the Best Planet and is established in the center of the Three Sun System. On the planets of the System, from seeds brought by our then young Sun, monstrous forms of physical man appear. The cycle of the Third race of mankind ends On Earth at this time.

Formally, the traditions of matriarchy and the Kingdom of Three continue on the Best Planet. But soon the Son intends to capture the Mother and the Better Planet into sole possession. The Mother practically leaves the Father and becomes the only wife of the Son, who has more than a thousand concubines. The father is limited to only a few advanced wives. Possession of the Mother gives the Son an advantage in Power, but the Power of the Father becomes equal to the Power of the Son. The decline of morals on the planet comes to the stage of depravity and orgies of black magic. A struggle begins between the followers of the Father and the Son. Saturn begins to fade, and Uranus to rise and to push Saturn out of the System's center.

In order to destroy the Father's palace on the Best Planet, the Son attracts a huge poisonous bolide from space. In response to this, the Father finds a small but very strong bolide in space, with which He intends to destroy the Son's bolide. Father warns Mother of the impending collision and invites Her to take refuge with Him in her laboratory. Mother categorically refuses to do this without the Son. The Father agrees. But the Son demands to fulfill His condition: He agrees to take refuge with the Father and Mother in the Father's laboratory, on the condition that if His bolide turns out to be stronger than the Father's bolide, then the Father must abandon the Mother. The Father agrees again. As a result, the Father's bolide destroys not only the Son's bolide, but also splits the planet's core. The Best Planet explodes. A huge fragment of the Best Planet, which will form in the future into the New Best Planet, is carried away in the direction of the constellation Hercules. The Father transfers the Mother, the Son, the Brothers with their Halves and a small number of His supporters in the rays of Uranus to Mars. The Son leaves the Father and Mother and moves to the periphery of the Saturn Solar System. The little moon of Uranus is beginning to fade.

The second half of the Third Manvantara is the Manvantara of Uranus and the Kingdom of the Beast. Father and Mother incarnate on Mars as Gods, Messengers and Chiefs. Soon the Son joins them. A new offspring is born from the Father and the Son. The Mother moves away from the Son to the Father and Uranus displaces Saturn from the center of the Solar System. But the Son persecutes Mother and Father subjecting Them to cruel tortures and executions more than once. The fight between Father and Son for Mother continues on our Moon and Venus. The Mother on the Moon incarnates as the Goddess of the Lunar cult, and the Father and the Son as the leaders of the warring states. At this time, the separation of the compacted etheric bodies of earthlings takes place and on Earth the optimal conditions for the development of intelligence are being created. Soon, the Son captures the Earth, after which the Spirits of the Fiery Mist, the former inhabitants of the Best Planet, come to Earth from Venus. Uranus is fading and our Sun is central to the Solar System.

The fourth manvantara (contemporary us) begins after the next pralaya with the densiting on the Earth of the Subtle bodies of the Spirits of the Fiery Mist almost to the point of tangibility. These Spirits form their bodies by the power of kriyashakti. Soon They, as well as Spirits from the Moon and Mars, begin to incarnate (in whole or in part) in the bodies of primitive, but already quite self-conscious people. There is a significant improvement in the human type, but a person is born in almost complete oblivion of past lives and his inner Essence.

In order to impede the spiritual evolution of earthlings, to oppose the universal Solar Hierarchy of the Father and to withdraw the Earth from the evolution of the Solar System, the Son builds a dense veil around the physical plane of the Earth, which prevents the penetration of the highest emanations of the Cosmos. The thick dark veil of the emanations of the Son and His Hierarchy makes the Earth a diseased organ corresponding to the head in the body of our universe. The Father and Mother decide to enter into a struggle with the Son on the Physical plane of the Earth, for the sake of saving not only the planet, but the entire universe. To this end, They begin to incarnate together with their spiritual family (which makes up the Solar Hierarchy of our universe) as the Rulers, Sages and Teachers of Earth's humanity. Magic among people is quickly divided into Left and Right paths, and the majority rushes along the easier, but dead-end Left path. Black magicians predominate in the offspring of the Son.

On the higher subtle planes, the Mother creates with the Father, but on the lower planes she is still connected with the Son. The bolide from Orion, magnetized by the Father to Earth to save his country from the flood in the Fourth Race of humanity, sings the Mother (Uodeo) on the Island in Atlantis and significantly clears Her dense shells from the connection with the Son.

The legends about Isis, Osiris and Set, about the abduction of Sita by Ravana and about the fight of Rama with Him for his Chosen One are the poetic memories of mankind about the dramatic rivalry of the Father of our universe with His spiritually fallen Son on planet Earth.

In the Fifth race, the struggle between the Father and the Son on Earth continues. The Son has the advantage of Black magic on the Physical and lower Subtle Planes, but cannot resist the Father on the higher planes. Using the connection of the sex centers with the head centers, He develops His intellect and the intellect of His followers at the expense of spirituality. Most of His followers are His offspring. The most gifted of them are His offspring from the Mother.

The Father and the Brothers, the eldest of which is the Teacher Kut-Humi, base in the Himalayas the Stronghold of knowledge and opposition to evil. The Teachers themselves continue to incarnate as Sages, Mentors and Rulers in order to resist the corruption of humanity and the death of the Earth.

Of great importance was the incarnation of Kut-Humi by Jesus Christ, who accepted the mission of the World Teacher, but as a result of selfless struggle and excessive expenditure of energy, He fell mortally ill. Jesus called to Himself the Father, who at that time was borne on Earth from the Mother and was the senior Friend and earthly Mentor of Jesus. The Father came to Jesus when He was already on His deathbed. They talked and decided on a dangerous experience for the Father. Jesus gladly agreed to present his dying body to the Father. The Father died in his already aging body and was embodied in the terminally ill body of the thirty-year-old Jesus. Soon He overcame the disease and took upon Himself the mission of the World Savior.

Father recruited disciples and began to preach. His closest disciple was the Mother, then embodied in the body of the young Mary Magdalene. Mary wrote down the teaching of Christ not only during His lifetime, but also after His departure. The records were kept by John and from them the Gospels and teachings of the Gnostics were made.

By the end of the 19th century, victory over the fallen Son (Lucifer) became possible for the Father and Mother only if They acquired Complete Arhatship on Earth. The Complete Arhatship was inaccessible until that time on Earth and meant the union on the Earth plane of the half monads of a man and a woman in three natures (Manas, Buddhi, Atma) and three bodies (Physical, Subtle and Spiritual).

As a result of the efforts of the Son and the mistake of one of the Brothers, the possibility of the next birth of the Mother in an earthly body was blocked. Nevertheless, through the efforts of the Father and the entire Brotherhood, it was possible for Mother to embodied in the damaged by the Son body of a little girl dying from an illness in the seventh year of her life. The girl's name was Helena Roerich. She died, and the Mother embodied in her body.

As a child, Elena Ivanovna, with the help of her Father, managed to overcome the disease, in her youth she significantly corrected the damage done to the nervous system and heart, and in her advanced age she underwent a fiery transmutation of the centers and the separation of the three natures. Ultimately, she managed to reach the stage of Complete Arhatship with the Father on Earth. But the cost of this achievement was high. The sheath of the passionate double, the etheric double itself, and in many respects the sheath of the mental body were burnt out as a result of the ignition of the centers. The most significant fire occurred during an expedition to Tibet, in the smoke of Mongolian fires.

As a result of the combustion of the densified shells, the Mother finally lost the possibility of an earthly incarnation in a human body of the modern type. But Her lower Mental sheath was healed by the matter-lucida of the Father. This gives the Mother the opportunity to appear on the Earth plane with the Father in a new type of human body in the second half of our century. New human bodies from the densified astral have tangibility and the ability to fly on the Earth plane. The burning of the densified Subtle shells of Helena Ivanovna significantly facilitated the Father's protection of the Mother from the Son on the Subtle plane and increased the chances of defeating Him in the final and decisive battle.

In the 20s of the last century the Moon-mother (Planet of the Mother of the World) and the Little Moon (the Star of the Mother of the World in the visibility of a comet) were approached to the Solar System. The Moon-mother is on the Etheric Plane, while the Little Moon is on the Physical Plane. The Moon-mother was guarded from the Son and His followers, and the outpost of the Brotherhood was located on it. But in 1936, the Son managed to master a deadly cosmic ray, with the help of which He captured the Moon-mother. In 1940-1941 He moved his Stronghold there. Prior to this, the headquarters of the Son was on the reverse side of our Moon on the Subtle plane.

In 1949, a decisive duel took place between the Father, who united his Force with the Manetism of the Mother, and the Son on the Moon-mother. As a result, the Son's deadly blow to the Father and Mother turned back to Him as a blow back. The Son and His closest, most powerful followers were burnt with all their sheaths, except for the Monadic one. Thus, they are deprived of the opportunity to incarnate anywhere in the Solar System, not only in the ongoing Fourth Manvantara, but also in the next Fifth. The stronghold of evil on the Moon-mother was incinerated by the reverse impact along with the planet's crust, and planet's core received a dangerous crack. Through the efforts of the Brotherhood, the crack in the core of the Moon-mother was healed.

The Brotherhood had hopes that the Moon-mother could become a home for the main part of earthly humanity after a possible catastrophe of the Earth in the 50s of the last century in the event of a nuclear war, or in 1977 as a result of the connection of the internal fire of the Earth with the external fire of the Invisible Sun.

The Invisible Sun passes through the Solar System once a century. The catastrophe of 1977 was postponed until 2077 by the efforts of the Brotherhood to contain the internal fire of the Earth, and also due to the destruction of many of the lower astral spheres of the Earth as a result of nuclear explosions. But the same explosions began to weaken the protective network of the Earth and led to the death of many, mostly low spirits.

Spirits that have fallen into the epicenter of a nuclear explosion burn all their shells and are deprived of the opportunity to be incarnated for a period of at least one manvantara, depending on the damage done to the body shells.

After the burning of the crust of the Moon-mother, this planet lost the opportunity to receive the main part of our humanity for hundreds of thousands of years, before the hardening of the crust and the appearance of vegetation on it.

In the 1950s, the magnetic calls of Father and Mother attracted a New Best Planet into the Solar System - a giant fragment of the old Best Planet. But this planet requires the construction by the Father, Mother and the entire Brotherhood of new spheres on it, suitable for the main part of our humanity.

It is expected that the catastrophe of 2077 will not explode the Earth, but will only lead to significant tectonic changes on it. The sinking of the continents will affect the territory of the former Soviet Union relatively weakly, which cannot be said about Western Europe, Australia and the Americas. The catastrophe must be a purifier of the spheres of the Earth and humanity on them. After the catastrophe, the Earth must enter into its 6th Circle.

The next, Fifth Manvantara of humanity of our universe will take place on the Subtle Plan and will be the Manvantara of Intellect. The predominant cosmic vibration of the Fifth Manvantara will be the vibration of the Feminine Beginning. The sun of the next manvantara will be Altair from the constellation Cygnus, which has already begun to approach the Solar System. Father and Mother assimilate his energies.

The Sixth manvantara of god-like humanity will take place in the worlds on the border of Buddhi and will be the manvantara of spirit-understanding at the equality of the Beginnings.

The short Seventh Manvantara will be a preparation for dreaming about a new universe with a wider range of elements and possibilities for the development of the spirit.
